THE SENECA COUNTY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We, the Republicans of Sedgewick county, in convention assembled, again renew our allegiance to the great party of progress and human liberty, whose name we bear, whose traditions we honor, and whose principles we love, and we recall with pride and confidence the fact that the Republican party, as organized to vindicate the rights of man, has never been mindful of the wishes and desires of the people and prompt to respond to every reasonable demand.

We recognize that a republic is the great industry of Kansas, upon the prosperity of which the welfare of all classes of our people depends, and we insist that the interests of the farmers shall have foremost consideration in all legislation, and that every demand made by this great and important element of our people shall receive the most prompt attention at the hands of the state legislature.

We believe that the discrimination in freight rates by railroad corporations depriving their franchisees from the state of Kansas, against the people of this state and in favor of communities elsewhere, is an evil demanding immediate action, and the most prompt and vigorous legislation to correct it.

We also insist that at least one member of the state board of railroad commissioners should be a practical farmer and that sufficient power should be lodged in the commission to enable it to enforce prompt compliance with its decisions.

We favor the most liberal pension for our veteran soldiers, the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and as large a reduction of the tariff as the necessities and obligations of the government will permit without impairing the principle of protection to American labor, and we insist that our senators and representatives shall vote for no man for United States senator who is not sound upon every one of these propositions.

We congratulate our fellow citizens upon the fact that in recent contests in congress over the question of free coinage of silver, the delegation from Kansas stood like a solid rock against the advocates of the gold standard, and we believe that the friends of free coinage in the senate was a Kansas Republican while we also note the fact that the most prominent and inveterate enemy of free coinage in America is the leader and patron saint of Democracy—Grover Cleveland.

We favor the submission of the prohibitory amendment to a vote of the people, and while we recognize an honest difference of opinion as to the wisdom and expediency of prohibition as a temperance measure, we believe that upon the right of the people to vote upon a vital and important question, there can be no serious doubt, and we urge upon the coming legislature its submission to the people at the earliest practicable date.

To the next state convention we urge our delegates to labor to secure a reorganization plank in the Republican state platform, and we also instruct our senators and representatives to vote for no man for United States senator who is not sound upon every one of these propositions.

We favor a most liberal representation of this state and its people in the national legislature, and we urge upon the coming legislature its submission to the people at the earliest practicable date.

We believe the enactment of a national bankruptcy law is a matter of vital interest to this state, and we request Senators Ingalls and Platteau to vote for and support a resolution to submit the prohibitory amendment to a vote of the people.

We endorse to the fullest extent the principles of reciprocity in our commercial relations with other nations so ably advocated by Hon. James G. Blaine, and we believe that the broad and comprehensive American policy of reciprocity, which distinguishes Republican statesmen, is equally calculated to develop the resources and expand the trade of our country and dignify our American statesmanship in the eyes of the world.

We favor the reduction of the salaries of all public officers to a reasonable limit and the abolishing of all useless offices.

At the last session of the legislature of the state of Kansas the office of commissioner of elections was created in cities of the first class, and we believe that it is without benefit to the people and an unnecessary expense, and we therefore earnestly ask that the law creating said office be repealed at the coming session of the legislature.

We favor an amendment to the mortgage law forbidding waiver of appraisal, securing to the mortgagee a liberal right of redemption after sale, and confining the lender of money exclusively to his real estate security and we instruct our senators and representatives accordingly.

That we demand a revision by our railroad commissioners of the classification of merchandise and rates in our state and demand such classification as will be in conformity with that of the Missouri river and to be no greater than those established by the commissioners of Iowa.

We are in favor of the enactment by the next legislature of a law authorizing the judgment of the district court in all judgments rendered in the district court of the state for a reasonable length of time and under such limitations that will benefit the debtor class and will not impair the rights of the creditors.

We tender hearty thanks to our fellow Republicans of the Seventh congressional district for the nomination of our distinguished fellow citizen, Colonel J. B. Hall, as well as their faith in him for congress, and we pledge to him the central and undivided support of the Republicans of Sedgewick county.

A PICTURESQUE AMERICAN.

Interesting Glimpses at the Career of Col. Thomas P. Ochiltree.

Our American civilization has produced but two men of international reputation, of whom people very familiar with their names, being asked what these men have done to achieve greatness, would stammer, hesitate and finally fail to answer.

These men are Sam Ward, now no more, and Thomas P. Ochiltree, whose portrait appears with this article. There is such a thing as a shipwreck of notoriety which every man believes and which no man dares, and the widespread reputation of and defeated the so called most popular Democrat in Texas, Mr. Findlay, that brought him into prominence. At that time the congressional district which he represented embraced 37,000 square miles of territory, contained twenty-seven counties, and reached from Galveston on the Gulf to Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande.

The great fight took place at Galveston, where Ochiltree and his adherents occupied the majority as headquarters, and his opponents the large Truett house. Ochiltree kept everybody away from the speeches at the latter place listening for hours at the armory to stories that he told on himself—stories that have gone the rounds of every English periodical.

Among others he told how, when he began to practice law with his father, he took advantage of the old gentleman's absence in San Antonio to have an immense sign painted which read, "Thomas P. Och-iltree and father, attorneys," etc.

For the past five years Col. Ochiltree has withdrawn from politics and lived at the Hoffman house, New York city, in such retirement as crowds of friends who love his wit and brilliant conversation will permit.
He is a figure of the age in which we live that survives from an age gone forever.
As such he merits exploitation before he disappears from the stage.

"I have had a delightful evening," he

"May I call again?"
"I shall be glad to see you," she replied, with a blush.

As he walked out into the hall he saw in the mirror of the last rack a reflection of the regular girl sitting throwing a kiss at him, and he turned back.

"I must have that in the original package," he whispered, and he was not refused.

SECRET SOCIETY NEWS.

NOTES AND GOSSIP FROM LODGE ROOM AND CASTLE HALL.

Something About the Royal Adelaide, an Order Founded in Detroit Three Years Ago and Now Growing Rapidly.
Three of Its Prominent Officers.

The Royal Adelaide is a Detroit creation, according to The News of that city, but has extended its limits far beyond the state lines, in this particular exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its originators.

It was in the fall of 1887 that a few prominent secret society men, who were members of nearly all the beneficial organizations then in existence, but could still see a point upon which all could be improved—the matter of the payment of stipulated weekly sick benefits of a magnitude sufficient to attract as members individuals who are wholly dependent upon a small weekly or monthly wage for the existence of themselves and family.

On Jan. 2, 1888, the order was incorporated under the laws of Michigan governing fraternal insurance and benefit associations, and a movement was made at once to extend the limits of its usefulness. Unless more other fraternal societies, it provides for its members during life, as well as providing for the beneficiaries of deceased members. The membership is divided into three classes, known as full rate, two-third rate and one-third. The chief recommendation of the order is its sick benefit and total disability clause, and in this respect it has accomplished a great amount of good.

The number of councils throughout the country is rapidly increasing, which is owing in a large measure to the careful management.

ROYAL JOHNSON.
ment of the supreme commander is
Dr. O. W. Carlson, of Milwaukee. Wis.
The doctor is a man who thoroughly understands the demands upon an officer occupying so responsible a position. Since assuming the executive chair Dr. Carlson has pushed the order in every direction, the results being remarkable. He is also president of the Alumni association of Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, of Chicago.

Not a little of the success of the order is due to the supreme secretary, Edward Johnson, a member of Detroit, conclave No. 11. He joined the order at the institution of his subordinate conclave on Oct.
31, 1884, and was elected its first commander, and was re-elected at the expiration of his first term. He represented Detroit conclave at the first assembly held in Michigan, and was elected by that body to represent Michigan at the session of the supreme conclave, held in September, 1887.
At the last session of the supreme conclave, held in September, 1889, he was elected supreme secretary.

Another popular official of the supreme conclave is Frank Hough, also a member of Detroit conclave, No. 11, which he joined as a charter member in 1884. He held the positions of secretary and treasurer of his subordinate conclave during the first two years of its existence, and in 1886 he was elected treasurer of the supreme conclave.
In position, he has continued to hold to the present time, having been re-elected at each subsequent session.

A Magnificent Temple to Be Erected in Chicago—N. Y. The following persons from supreme commander, capital, $500,000; in-

Thomas Chalmers, W. H. Underwood, Jr., and John M. Campbell. In addition to the lodge rooms there will be a large auditorium that will accommodate 10,000 persons. Office rooms will also be arranged for, and it is the intention of the association to make it the finest temple in the country. The new building will cost about prospects of bringing the plan to a successful issue.

THE IRON HALL.
How the Order Has Grown in Philadelphia and Baltimore—Notes.

The largest branch is in Baltimore. It has over 1,100 members.

There are sixty branches of the order in Philadelphia, of which twenty-four are tertiary branches, with a membership of nearly 8,000. A majority of the branches are doing good work. The total increase is about up to the average for summer months. The Philadelphia sick claims have been greatly diminished the past two months, showing a marked improvement in the general health of the order. During the months of April, May and June there were 185 claims for sickness paid, amounting to $10,500, also 114 final claims amounting to $60,400, making a total down to July 1 of over $100,000.

The report from the supreme headquarters for the month of May is as follows: Fourteen new branches, new members, 1,117. There were two assessments called and $61,000 claims paid, amounting to $44,800. There were also 161 final seven years' claims paid, amounting to $13,000.
Total claims paid, $57,800. Up to May 1

The Patent Law.
It is the object of the patent law to give the inventor recompense for his work.
Under the length of life granted a patent by our laws, however, there are a great number of unimportant patents which only serve to hinder other workers in the same field and give the inventor no benefit. To meet this difficulty it is proposed that an English system be adopted, by which the normal life of a patent shall be five years, which time might be extended on payment of additional fees. It is the principle of the patent law to remunerate the inventor for his addition to the sum of national industry and resources, hence if it does not avail himself of the exclusive privilege offered him to manufacture the patented article and to put it upon the market, it should be forfeited to the public by limitation.—New
